DECLARATION OF MAURICIO BONILLA ROBERT

I, MAURICIO BONILLA ROBERT, holder of the Costa Rican Identification number 1-0903-0770, do hereby declare:

1. I am an attorney licensed to practice in the country of Costa Rica (license number 13784) and practice with the law firm of Oller Abogados (<http://www.ollerabogados.com>). I have been retained to represent the interest of Plaintiff 1st Technology LLC in the country of Costa Rica in Case No. 2:06-cv-1110-RLH-GWF, filed in the United States District Court for the District of Nevada.

2. I am over the age of 18, the age of legal majority in the State of Nevada.

3. I have researched the date Bodog Entertainment Group, S.A. ("Bodog"), allegedly closed its operations in Costa Rica. According to newspaper articles that came out in December 09th, 2007, Bodog announced that its "Bets Division" was going to be transferred. As reported in the newspaper article that came out on the Costa Rican Newspaper "La Nación" titled ("Gigante de las apuestas se marcha del país") (http://www.nacion.com/ln_ee/2006/diciembre/09/sucesos923594.html) attached hereto (as Exhibit A) Bodog relocated some of its operations outside of Costa Rica. As the article (a true and correct English translation of which is also attached as Exhibit B) indicates, some of Bodog's operations remained in Costa Rica. In any event, as the article notes, Bodog's partial relocation occurred in December, 2006, well after the date of Service of the Summons and Complaint performed by Mr. Allan Hernandez Vargas, which occurred on November 23, 2006.

4. I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Nevada, and the laws of the country of Costa Rica and United States, that the foregoing is true and correct.

DATED: October 2nd, 2007.

Trasladará operaciones a Antigua

Gigante de las apuestas se marcha del país

Otto Vargas It.
ovargas@nacion.com

El gigante de las apuestas en línea, Bodog.com, anunció ayer el traslado de sus operaciones de apuestas de Costa Rica a la Isla de Antigua, en el Caribe.

La compañía, propiedad del magnate canadiense Calvin Ayre -uno de los 800 más hombres más ricos del planeta, según la revista Forbes-, dio a conocer que retirará del mercado estadounidense la publicidad pagada en periódicos, revistas, televisiones y estaciones radiofónicas.

"Bodog.com mantendrá sus oficinas en Costa Rica por algún tiempo (...)", explicó Ayre en un comunicado. Con respecto al traslado, Ayre comentó: "Esto otorga a nuestra división de apuestas un permiso en un ambiente seguro y en una jurisdicción bien regulada."

"Antigua es la correcta jurisdicción desde donde seguiremos nuestra expansión europea".

Legislación. El anuncio de Ayre se produjo apenas meses después de que las autoridades estadounidenses detuvieron a los cabecillas de tres empresas que recibían apuestas en Costa Rica.

El blanco fueron las compañías Playwithit (La Sabana), BetOnSports (Mall San Pedro) y Sportingbet (Santa Ana).

Ayre, a quien el Ministerio Público abrió una investigación por una presunta infracción a la Ley de juegos -organizada en el país un torneo de póquer- confirmó que la entrada en vigencia de una nueva legislación en Estados Unidos lo llevó trasladar sus operaciones.

El pasado 13 de octubre, el presidente de ese país, George W. Bush, firmó una ley que prohíbe a los estadounidenses las apuestas a través de Internet.

La compañía Bodog adquirió a mediados de noviembre la empresa Belcorp, esto como parte del plan para el traslado de las oficinas.

Isabel Mora, vocera de Ayre, indicó que en el país no habrá despidos. "Aquí quedará un call center (centro de llamadas). Lo que hay es una reestructuración", dijo.

Calvin Ayre mantendrá en el país una fundación benéfica que lleva su nombre.

MIKE DITKA AND REGGIE JACKSON TO SPEAK AT BODOG.COM POKER & SPORTS MARKETING CONFERENCE

JUNE 01, 2005

Bodog.com is extremely excited to announce that sports legends Mike Ditka and Reggie Jackson have been confirmed as special guests at the 2005 Bodog.com Poker & Sports Marketing Conference set for July 6 and 7, 2005 at the Mandalay Bay Convention Center in Las Vegas, Nevada.

"This opportunity to learn from and mingle with the most engaging personalities in professional sports should undoubtedly be a thrill for all attendees," said Bodog.com Founder Calvin Ayre. "An entire day will be dedicated to sports marketing, during which time Ditka and Jackson will be sharing old war stories from on and off the field as well as imparting their tips on achieving success in life."

Coming off of the overwhelming success of the 2004 Bodog.com Conference, Bodog.com is once again leading the industry in bringing together the industry's top minds and influencers for the 2005 Bodog.com Poker & Sports Marketing Conference. Other speakers include World Series of Poker Tournament Director Matt Savage, PokerRoyalty.com's Brian Balsbaugh, Playbook Magazine publisher Marc Lawrence, online gambling legal expert Aliyn Jaffrey Shulman, SportsDatabases President Scott Neil, and Founder and President of Sports911.com/Gambling911.com Christopher 'Sting' Costigan. More great speakers are being added and will be announced soon.

"Joe Montana was the highlight of the conference last year, and in continuing with our tradition of providing attendees with a once-in-a-lifetime chance to meet great sports legends, Bodog.com is proud to have Mike Ditka and Reggie Jackson on hand at this year's conference. Talk about a sports fan's dream come true!" said Calvin Ayre, Founder of Bodog.com. Adding, "It would not be a Bodog.com sponsored event without a fantastic party, beautiful women, and tons of entertainment to make for a wild time in Las Vegas."

Once again Bodog.com is leading the charge, not only to educate the industry, but also to have the most valuable event available for advertisers, affiliates, investors, suppliers and the media. "We are all very excited to bring this event back to Las Vegas, and know that this will be the single event everyone involved in the online gambling industry should attend," said Calvin Ayre. "We have a number of big surprises planned for this year, but you will have to be there to experience it all."

Online Gambling Giant Bodog.com Marketing Conference Postponed

Online Gaming leader Bodog CEO Calvin Ayre announced that the Bodog.com Marketing Conference will be postponed. Poker and sports betting at Bodog.com.

(PRWEB) July 21, 2006 -- Bodog.com's Founder and CEO Calvin Ayre announced today that the Bodog.com Marketing Conference would be postponed to a later date, in light of concerns raised by delegates who were expected to attend the industry's biggest event of the year.

"Bodog was receiving lots of calls from would-be conference attendees who are expressing a high level of concern over the uncertainty surrounding the U.S. government's recent actions against a company in our industry," Ayre said. "It is in light of these concerns that we have decided to postpone the Bodog.com Marketing Conference to a later date and at an international location. This decision also ensures that the focus of the conference will not be lost."

The annual Bodog.com Marketing Conference has presented opportunities for good discussion about marketing, customer service and about the growth of the online gambling industry.

In a letter sent to conference delegates, Ayre stated: "The actions taken by the authorities have nothing to do with our organization; we are simply acting prudently for all concerned. We will continue to lead the way in digital entertainment."

More details about the upcoming Bodog.com Marketing Conference will be released in the coming weeks.

Among its many offerings, Bodog.com also includes a sportsbook, a poker room, a racebook and a casino. Bodog.com has an international record label (Bodog Music), an international television division that produces television content around the world, and a publishing division that produces both Bodog Nation and Bodog Beat (a blog).

Bodog.com, located in San Jose, Costa Rica, is federally licensed by the Costa Rican and UK governments. www.bodog.com Founder and CEO Calvin Ayre, who is recognized as the true pioneer of online gambling and a world authority on branding in the digital entertainment industry, was featured on the cover of Forbes magazine's best-selling "Billionaires" issue in March 2006. Bodog.com is the top-ranked US facing online gambling brand, with highest site traffic amongst multi-product US gaming web sites, according to Hitwise. Bodog.com, valued at over US $1 billion and ranked in the Power 10 online companies by eGaming Review, processed $7 billion in wagers in 2005.
